INTRODUCTION AND GUIDE

Purpose

Paid-free grant are offered to help guarantee parents' rights to have their children educated at private primary schools through grants to reduce the amount of school fees and the parental payment for after-school programmes, as well as to reduce the cost associated with residency in a boarding programme.

Allocation of paid-free grant

There are two portions to the grant model: Fordelingssekretariatet stands for the allocation paid-free grant to schools, and schools then stand for the allocation of paid-free grant to students.

Schools may be awarded paid-free grant based on the presence of applicants whose base income lies below the income thresholds set by Fordelingssekretariatet for this purpose. Parents' base incomes are calculated in accordance with §14 of the Order on Grants; cf. below, under the Order on Grants. If base income data cannot be obtained, preliminary income data will form the basis for grant calculations. All students who are enrolled and entitled to grant as of 5/9 of the school year may be considered by Fordelingssekretariatet for the purpose of paid-free grant for the applicable school year.

The school's paid-free grant will be allocated to students by school management. The school's board of directors is responsible for the allocation process. The school is not obligated to follow the allocation guidelines of Fordelingssekretariatet, but use of independent allocation methods/guidelines is contingent upon consideration being given to parents' economic situations, and the extent to which their municipalities of residence are providing parental payment grants.

Parents' addresses, children's addresses, parents' civil statuses, and numbers of siblings as of 5/9 of the school year are essential to the paid-free grant calculations undertaken by Fordelingssekretariatet.

Biological/adoptive parents

Only biological/adoptive parents should be specified in the application. If a student has half-siblings for which paid-free grant are also sought, separate applications must be completed for each student.

Separation/divorce

Separation/divorce must be approved by authorities no later than 5/9 of the school year to be taken into consideration for paid-free grant applications.

Declaration of consent

Signing the application's declaration of consent allows Fordelingssekretariatet to retrieve information from the Central Personal Registry and SKAT as may be necessary for application processing. This information, which will be handled confidentially, is used by Fordelingssekretariatet for calculating paid-free grant for schools, and by schools for allocation of the awarded paid-free grant to students.
